

Are you a Sault Tribe well owner?
Contact the Sault Tribe's Environmental Department to see if you're eligible for

Free water testing to check for uranium in your well.

Why should your well be tested?

- The Jacobsville Sandstone Formation is known to have high levels of uranium
- Although uranium is naturally occurring, too much uranium can cause medical complications such as kidney damage or an increased cancer risk
- Uranium levels can vary from location to location, the only way to know if your well contains uranium is to have it tested!
- The information gathered from this study will be used to pursue funding for installation of treatment systems where needed
